League of Nations Meets; New Glass Hats; Goats Get Straw Lids

A REPLICA OF THE MENIN GATE in sugar was one of the striking novelties entered in the annual bakery and confectionery competitions in the Agricultural Hall, London.

"SEA FLEA" IS TO CROSS THE ATLANTIC: It is the quonset craft that has been seen in British waters in a long time; half sea plane and half boat it makes a speed of seventy-five miles an hour.

MAKING FRIENDS IN THE OPEN: A charming snapshot taken in Bushy Park, showing the extent to which wild life sometimes trusts its friends.

MOTORCYCLISTS START ROUND WORLD TOUR: C. H. Tavernier and F. R. Hall, two Englishmen, are attempting a world tour with a motorcycle and side car. They will traverse eleven major countries.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS MEETS: The eighth session of the League assembled at Geneva getting under way.

GLASS HATS THE LATEST: Martha Lorber combines science and style, wearing a hat molded from Vitaglass, benefiting from the ultra-violet rays.

(ABOVE) VETERAN WALKER: Jas. Hocking, now seventy-one, starting on hike from New York to Albany, 140 miles.

ARTHUR BOUCHIER stricken with critical illness touring in South Africa.

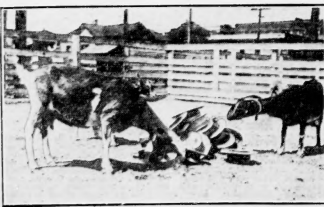

GOVERNOR-GENERAL GREETED YOUNG EXPLORER: Robert Carter, age 12, an author and traveler of Walton, N.Y., was presented to his excellency the other day, Lord Willington desiring to see him. He has explored the north very extensively, covering 800 miles on the Albany and English rivers this year.

APC8502

LORD ASTOR'S BOOK LAW WINS ST. LEGER STAKES: This classic horse race, which closes the season, was instituted over 150 years ago by General St. Leger, receiving its present title in 1778. As an event it is exceedingly popular, 50,000 attending this year.

THE GOATS GET THESE STRAW HATS: With the close of the season in this village at least the goats had a good feed of well-seasoned straw.

TITLED LADY FLIES: Countess Drogheda, known as the flying countess, who leads new flying craze in the old country.

WINS EDERLE TROPHY: Miss Alina Oipowich of Worcester, Mass., broke 200-yard record, winning trophy.

PRESIDENT COSGRAVE of the Irish Free State whose support in the recent elections appears to be strengthened.

FATHER OF THIRTEEN GIRLS OUT OF WORK: Herr Alois Haberer, an Austrian bricklayer, thinks it is bad enough to be out of work, but he also has thirteen girls to support, his only income coming from the unemployment dole, which he gets from week to week from the municipality.

A black and white illustration in a sketchy, expressive style. On the left, a man in a light-colored suit and tie stands, facing right towards two other men. He holds a bag or briefcase with the letters 'LH' on it. The two men on the right are seated at a small, round, high-top table. They are both looking towards the standing man. The background is dark and filled with heavy, expressive brushstrokes, suggesting an interior setting with a window or doorway visible in the upper right. The overall mood is dramatic and somewhat somber.

THE TITLE-HOLDERS
In further confirmation of the fact that the Canadian amateur's inquiry regarding the Commercial Graden's being world champions as published yesterday in this paper, the following is a list of the titles held by the Graden's in the various sports in which they have been successful.

In the story due attention is given to the fact that in 1925 exhibition team the Graden's were defeated by the Cleveland News-Week team. Also mention is made of the fact that the Graden's were defeated in a series of games for the championship. Turning over to a few pages another article describes the Newman's series of games and winds up with the admission. The Newman's were defeated in a series of games for the championship. The Newman's were defeated in a series of games for the championship. The Newman's were defeated in a series of games for the championship.

HIGHER AND BETTER
